

MAYFLOWER PRIMARY SCHOOL

POSITIVE BEHAVIOUR MANAGEMENT POLICY 2021-2022

This policy will support all staff to teach positive learning behaviours, safe in the knowledge that this body of work will reduce misbehaviour in lessons. All our staff can provide the conditions for learning behaviours to develop by ensuring pupils can access the curriculum, engage with lesson content, and participate in their learning. At all times, staff should encourage pupils to be self-reflective of their own behaviours and choices.

Policy Date:	Sept 2021	Version: 1
Policy Review Date:	Sept 2022	Head Teacher: Luke Whitney	13.09.21
Ratified by Governing Body:
27 th September 2021		Chair of Governors:	13.09.21

Our values in respect of positive behaviour management are as follows:

- Peace
- Responsibility
- Respect
- Thoughtfulness
- Resilience
- Friendship
- Empathy
- Hope
- Determination
- Fairness
- Perseverance
- Love

We want our Learning Community to be safe, supportive, and inspiring for all our pupils so they can become the best versions of themselves. Every member of our Learning Community has a right to come into school, be treated with respect, and free from any behaviours that can compromise their age, disability, gender reassignment, race, religion or belief, sex, or sexual orientation. These are known as Protected Characteristics, as articulated within the Equality Act (2010).

Aims

This policy aims to uphold the behaviour principles agreed by the governing body and:

- Provide a consistent approach to behaviour management in our school.
- Define what we consider to be unacceptable behaviour, including bullying.
- Outline how pupils are expected to behave.
- Summarise the roles and responsibilities of different people in the school community with regards to behaviour management.
- Outline our system of rewards and sanctions.

This policy is designed to support the way in which all members of the school community can work together to create an environment where everyone has high expectations of the children, and all feel respected, valued, safe and secure.

Legislation and Statutory Requirements

This policy is based on advice from the Department for Education (DfE) on:

- Behaviour and discipline in schools
- Searching, screening and confiscation at school
- The Equality Act (2010)
- Use of reasonable force in schools
- Supporting pupils with medical conditions at school
- Special Educational Needs and Disability (SEND) Code of Practice
- Section 175 of the Education Act 2002, which outlines a school's duty to safeguard and promote the welfare of its pupils.
- Sections 88-94 of the Education and Inspections Act 2006, which require schools to regulate pupils' behaviour and publish a Behaviour Policy and written statement of behaviour principles, and give schools the authority to confiscate pupils' property
- DfE guidance explaining that maintained schools should publish their behaviour policy online.
- On an advisory basis, the school is also aware of the Education Endowment Foundation 'Improving Behaviour in Schools (June 2019) and the core principles that exemplify the link between learning behaviours and behaviour standards overall
- The Education Inspection Framework (September 2021)

The Restorative Approach/Respect Code

'Our job is to teach the PUPILS we have, NOT those we would like to have, NOT those we used to have, but those we have right now ALL of them.'

At the heart of the Restorative Approach is the intention to resolve conflict that occurs between people through a peaceful and fair process in which all parties are heard and respected.

We believe all children should understand that it is the responsibility of staff, pupils and members of the school community to uphold and maintain our school values of peace, responsibility, respect, thoughtfulness, resilience, friendship, empathy, hope, determination, fairness, perseverance and love. On occasions when these values are not being respected, we use restorative approaches as outlined in our behaviour chart to help pupils understand the impact of their actions, and how to resolve it.

We believe that by using this Restorative Approach we are giving pupils the skills to independently take responsibility for their behaviour and make more informed choices in the future.

Restorative approaches encourage pupils to think about how their behaviour affects others, both pupils and staff. It helps children to develop the values of respect, responsibility, peace, thoughtfulness, friendship, empathy, hope, fairness and love.

If a pupil in our school has been negatively affected by someone's behaviour, adults will ensure that each child's right to be heard is respected and the situation is resolved fairly.

If a pupil has done something wrong they will be asked to recognise the impact their behaviour has had on others and suggest a solution to resolve the situation and prevent reoccurrence in the future.

Our pupils say that they prefer the Restorative Approach as it allows ALL parties to have their right to be heard respected.

About Restorative Language:

When our pupils find themselves in conflict or upset, we will ask them:

- What happened?
- What were you thinking or feeling when it happened?
- What needs to happen to put this right?
- What would you do differently next time?

We might also say to our pupils:

- What would you think or feel if this happened to you?
- What are you willing to admit to?
- How can we put this right?
- What could you do differently next time?
- What other choice could you have made?
- How could you make sure it does not happen again?

Most situations can be dealt with by working through these questions. The aim here is that the outcome is fair for everyone. If somebody is upset, we aim to resolve the situation fairly. If someone has done something wrong, we expect them to take responsibility for their actions and suggest a way to resolve the problem or upset that their behaviour has caused.

Restorative behaviour process and chart:

Most situations can be dealt with fairly and promptly by using the above questions. If a child continues to misbehave, teachers/adults refer to the school behaviour guidelines stages 1-4.

We aim to:

Rewards and Sanctions

In our school, all staff recognise that REWARD is the primary basis of our Behaviour Management Policy. Children have a natural pre-disposition to please, and catching them making good choices is a core part of our practice.

Given the fact that our school is organised into 4 phases, staff agree the REWARDS that will be available to provide an ethos where good choices are the primary arbiter of success. These are subject to review on an annual basis, and are display prominently in each classroom.

A gradation is also used to children know what the next REWARD will be. In this way, children have been empowered to take responsibility for the choices they make, as well as the positive outcomes that follow on from this.

By adopting a REWARDS-based culture, we expect all of our children to be eager to seek REWARDS for the choices they have made. As these are consistent within phase, all staff will have access to the systems that are used. Such an approach will also give clarity to all of the children both in the classroom, as they move around the school, at playtimes, lunchtimes, and during any form of enrichment provision, including clubs, trips and also our programme of residential provision in years 5 and 6.

In the same way that REWARDS are the primary basis for our school's Behaviour Policy, we also recognise that on occasion, children can make the wrong choices for a number of different reasons. We believe that the majority of these will relate to a lack of access to the curriculum, hence the importance that is ascribed to positive learning behaviours, and the efforts that all staff go to to ensure that the curriculum is accessible to all pupils.

As with REWARDS, where children are made aware of the consequences of their actions, they are empowered to take responsibility for the next choice they make. A gradation of sanctions ensures this purpose, and children will always be aware of what will happen next, if they continue to make choices that compromise themselves or others.

Sanctions will follow a stepped procedure in each phase, as follows:

Sanctions: EYFS	Sanctions: Key Stage 1
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Step 1: Targeted support ▪ Step 2: 1:1 conferencing ▪ Step 3: Reinforce the Magic 5 ▪ Step 4: Parent contact ▪ Step 5: Referral to senior staff 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Step 1: Warning ▪ Step 2: Move away from group ▪ Step 3: 5 minute loss of break ▪ Step 4: Parent contact ▪ Step 5: Referral to HT/letter home

The RESPECT Code

To ensure that our systems, processes, and relevant information are easily available, the school has developed what is known as the RESPECT Code. This helps to promote the intrinsic motivation we expect all pupils to develop that will guide the choices they make. By developing these systems and approaches, all of our children are supported to make positive choices in and around the school, in-line with the core principles that have been developed through this policy.

Managing Transitions in class and around school

To maximise learning time and safety, we use the following behaviour strategies to maintain safe and efficient transitions when moving around in class and around school:

- Staff will lead the line, with support staff positioned at the back to ensure line of sight
- Senior staff will maintain a presence around the school, supporting staff as required
- Line order is encouraged, but it is also recognised that as children move through the school, they will be able to take more responsibility for the choices they make

Rewards systems

Class rewards:

- As detailed above, and agreed on a phase basis

Dojo Rewards/Celebration:

- Dojos are given to individual children and the class or groups for good behaviour and learning. They can be given by anyone in the school. Class teachers put their dojo onto the system online, and this translates into certificates that are awarded at our weekly celebration assemblies. These will be led by the Head Teacher, Deputy Head Teacher, or phase leaders.

Phase reward system:

- Golden Time can be given on a Friday afternoon, and these decisions will be taken in phase. Not all year groups utilise this system.
- Golden Time will run from 2.45 pm to 3.15 pm, and can be withdrawn as an additional sanction. It is recognised, however, that Golden Time should be a REWARD that children seek.
- Staff will be responsible for the supervision of children during Golden Time.

Whole school rewards system:

Achievement assembly:

- Achievement assemblies are held on a weekly basis, and for the first half of the autumn term 2021, they will remain pre-recorded
- Staff are responsible for notifying the assembly leaders of awards that have been given, including when dojo thresholds are reached
- Children are encouraged to take their certificates home, and social media channels are used to further celebrate their success

Attendance:

- Each week, the Head Teacher will present an award in each phase that celebrates the class with the highest aggregate attendance. This is in the form of a small trophy that will remain in class for all of the following week.
- This assembly is viewed as a vehicle for the positive teaching of good attendance habits in all classes, as well as the impact absence can have on learning

Off-site behaviour

Sanctions may be applied where a pupil has misbehaved off-site when representing the school, such as on a school trip or on the bus on the way to or from school.

Malicious allegations

- Where a pupil makes an accusation against a member of staff and that accusation is shown to have been malicious, the Head Teacher will discipline the pupil in accordance with this policy.
- Please refer to our Safeguarding and Child Protection Policy for more information on responding to allegations of abuse.
- The Head Teacher will also consider the pastoral needs of staff accused of misconduct.

Early Years Foundation Stage (EYFS) Behaviour Policy

The EYFS team follows the same policy as the rest of the school with some adjustments for Nursery children while settling in.

The school values will be displayed in each classroom with corresponding pictures to help illustrate them in action.

Sharing

If a child wants something another child has, practitioners will support both parties to mediate so that an equitable solution can be reached. Snatching is not appropriate, and it is recognised that these in-the-moment situations provide an excellent opportunity for all of our children to learn about empathy.

Praise and rewards

At our school, we believe that the key to promoting positive behaviour is through praise and rewards.

Some of the ways we do this are:

- Praise – lots and lots! This is the first stage of REWARD. We catch, recognise, and praise children who are making positive choices. This approach has two purposes in that the child is made to feel good about themselves, and other children are reminded of the expectations we have.
- Through language and gesture – staff ensure that the language frames the choice the child has made and also the consequence e.g. well done, you have managed to put your coat on all by yourself etc
- Positive directions - directions are phrased using positive wording e.g. let me see you walking inside the setting etc

Clear expectations are set by all adults at the beginning of the school year. In addition, regular circle times give classes opportunities to promote and reward positive behaviour. Before any involvement in the behaviour system, all children are fully aware of school expectations.

Reflection time:

- On occasion, children may need to have some time out for reflection. This is a perfectly normal part of early childhood development. Where a practitioner deems this to be necessary, a clear reason must be given, and the child will be supervised in a quiet area of the setting. The time-out must never exceed 3-minutes, and the child will be reminded at the end of this time period why they had been asked to reflect.
- For many children, this will also be an opportunity to think about the choices they make as they begin to reintegrate back into the setting. All of our adults possess the necessary skills to provide the right level of support.
- If another child has been hurt or upset as a consequence of the actions of the child who has had reflection time, part of the restorative process is to say sorry. Where necessary, adult support will be provided to ensure this act has meaning.

- In the unlikely event of the behaviour continuing, escalation may be required, involving senior staff or parent referral. The Early Years Leader and Head Teacher can advise, where this is felt to be necessary.
- On very rare occasions, the child will be supported to complete a Behaviour Reflection Sheet, and this will be uploaded to CPOMS so that a lasting record can be maintained. Paper copies will also be kept in the Red Folder in the Head Teacher's office.
- As the child reintegrates, it is imperative that staff then praises and rewards the child for making better choices in the area where previous their response has not been in-line with the our normal operating procedures.
- Tapestry Learning Journals will be used to celebrate success, so that children, parents and practitioners are aware of the positive choices our children have been making. Causal links will also be made with PSED and the termly Leuven screening checks.

Exclusion from School

The Behaviour Policy and Restorative Practice is underpinned by the shared commitment of all members of the School community to achieve two important aims:

- The first is to ensure the safety and well-being of all members of the School community, and to maintain an appropriate educational environment in which all can learn and succeed;
- The second is to realise the aim of reducing the need to use exclusion as a sanction.

The decision to exclude a student will be taken in the following circumstances:

- In response to a serious breach of the school's Positive Behaviour Policy
- If allowing the student to remain in School would seriously harm the education or welfare of the student or others in the School.

Exclusion is an extreme sanction and is only administered by the Head Teacher (or, in the absence of the Head, the Deputy Head who is acting in that role).

Exclusion, whether fixed term or permanent may be used for any of the following, all of which constitute examples of unacceptable conduct, and are infringements of the school's Behaviour Policy:

- Verbal abuse to Staff and others
- Verbal abuse to students
- Physical abuse to/attack on staff
- Physical abuse to/attack on students
- Indecent behaviour
- Damage to property
- Theft

- Serious actual or threatened violence against another student or a member of staff.
- Sexual abuse or assault.
- Unacceptable behaviour which has previously been reported and for which School sanctions and other interventions have not been successful in modifying the pupil's behaviour

This is not an exhaustive list and there may be other situations where the Head Teacher makes the judgment that exclusion is an appropriate sanction.

Fixed Term Internal Exclusions

It is our duty to ensure children have their right to an education and where possible any exclusion from lessons for behaviour should be minimised. It is acknowledged, however, that this may be necessary, to preserve good order in class.

Where all sanctions have been exhausted, children can be sent to the Head Teacher or Deputy Head Teacher, as required. They will ensure that the right support is provided, and this will also include the completion of a Behaviour Reflection Sheet. It is the responsibility of the referring member of staff to ensure that the child has work to complete and that they understand what has been taught. This is necessary because of the clear link between positive learning behaviours, and positive standards of behaviour overall.

Internal exclusions could form any of the following:

- They may include periods of up to three days where the child may miss break-time, lunchtime and lesson times.
- This fixed term internal exclusion will be supervised by the Head Teacher or Deputy Head Teacher, with a safe working space in the main school corridor.
- A Behaviour Support Plan will be implemented to monitor the child's behaviour during and following the period of exclusion for a suitable period of time.

Fixed Term External Exclusions

Where extreme or persistent behaviour that seriously breaches children or adult's right to learn and be safe, a referral will be made, with the support of the school's Special Educational Needs Co-ordinator (SENDCo).

Most external exclusions are of a fixed term nature and are of short duration (usually between one and three days).

Following the decision to internally exclude a child, parents are contacted immediately where possible. A meeting will be held with the parents, child, SLT, class teacher and SENDCo and followed up by a letter sent by post giving details of the exclusion and the date the exclusion ends. Parents carers have a right to make representations to the Governing Body and the LA as directed in the letter.

During the course of a fixed term exclusion, parents are advised that the student is not allowed on the school premises, and that daytime supervision is the responsibility of the parent with the support of the school.

A Return to School meeting will be held following the expiry of the fixed term exclusion and this will involve the Head Teacher or Deputy in their absence, the child, their parents, learning mentor, class teacher. Behaviour targets and risk assessment measures will be agreed by all. A behaviour passport will be completed with the members in the meeting. Behaviour will be continued to be monitored on return to school until all parties are happy with the improvement. The DfE's regulations allow the Head teacher to exclude a student for one or more fixed periods not exceeding 45 school days in any one school year.

Permanent Exclusion

The decision to exclude a student permanently is a serious one. There are two main types of situation in which permanent exclusion may be considered.

- The first is a final, formal step in a concerted process for dealing with disciplinary offences following the use of a wide range of other strategies, which have been used without success. It is an acknowledgement that all available strategies have been exhausted and is used as a last resort. This would include persistent and defiant misbehaviour including bullying (which would include racist or homophobic bullying)
- The second is where there are exceptional circumstances and it is not appropriate to implement other strategies and where it could be appropriate to permanently exclude a student for a first or one-off offence. These might include:
 - Serious actual or threatened violence against another pupil or a member of staff.
 - Sexual abuse or assault.

The School will consider police involvement for any of the above offences. These instances are not exhaustive but indicate the severity of such offences and the fact that such behaviour seriously affects the discipline and well-being of the School. Other incidents may lead to permanent exclusion and will be considered on an individual basis.

General factors the School considers before making a decision to exclude

Exclusion will not be imposed instantly unless there is an immediate threat to the safety of others in the School or the student concerned. Before deciding whether to exclude a student either permanently or for a fixed period the Head will:

- Ensure appropriate investigations have been carried out.
- Consider all the evidence available to support the allegations taking into account the relevant policies.
- Allow the student to give her/his version of events.
- Check whether the incident may have been provoked for example by bullying or by racial or sexual harassment.

If the Head is satisfied that on the balance of probabilities the student did what he or she is alleged to have done, exclusion will be the outcome.

Exercise of discretion:

In reaching a decision about whether or not to exclude, the Head Teacher will always look at each case on its own merits. Therefore, a tariff system, fixing a standard penalty for a particular action, is both unfair and inappropriate.

In considering whether permanent exclusion is the most appropriate sanction, the Head Teacher will consider

- the gravity of the incident, or series of incidents, and whether it constitutes a serious breach of the school's Behaviour Policy
- the effect that the student remaining in the school would have on the education and welfare of other students and staff.

In the case of a fixed term external exclusion, or a permanent exclusion, the school will follow its Exclusions Policy.

Physical Contact

Mayflower Primary School recognises that for some staff physical contact is an integral part of their role, for example, in the teaching of physical skills such as swimming and gymnastics; various forms of therapy; the administration of first aid and intimate care. Physical contact is also used to reassure and comfort children. This is especially pertinent during the settling-in period in EYFS classes where children may need to be cuddled and offered physical reassurance.

Staff will comfort children where necessary, but will use minimal physical contact.

Friendly physical contact also helps develop relationships, which is crucial to the EYFS, so we ensure staff are trained in safeguarding and endeavour to teach children about personal space.

Use of reasonable force

On occasions school staff may need to use reasonable force to prompt, guide or hold children. They do this in order to help children to control their own behaviour and to keep people safe. If staff act reasonably in their attempts to meet the needs of the child, they should be confident that they will be supported.

Examples of circumstances when proportionate use of force may be reasonable.

- To protect people or property
- To move children to a safer place
- To prevent children from behaving in such a way that seriously disrupts school activities

Team Teach Approach

Most of our staff are trained in the Team Teach approach for dealing with extreme cases of behaviour. This involves de-escalation techniques which are followed by all staff.

In very rare cases, physical restraint might be necessary for the safety of the child or others. Only adults who have been trained to do this will restrain the child. If this happens parents are informed.

All incidents where holding has been appropriate are recorded (see Use of Force Record), parents/carers informed, and actions put in place following the incident. In the follow up to such an incident, the school will continue to manage the situation using restorative approaches.

Further information about use of reasonable force at Mayflower Primary School is contained in our Positive Handling Policy.

Training

Staff at Mayflower Primary School are provided with training on managing behaviour, including proper use of restraint, as part of their induction process. Behaviour management will also form part of continuing professional development. All staffing training is logged and monitored.

Monitoring Arrangements

This behaviour policy will be reviewed by the Head Teacher and the Curriculum & Standards Committee annually. At each review, the policy will be approved by the Head Teacher and Curriculum & Standards Committee.

The written statement of behaviour principles (appendix 1) will be reviewed and approved by the full governing board annually, in line with DfE recommendation. Discussion will be minuted, and it is expected that individual governors will make termly visits to the school, in-line with the Key Milestones that are included in the latest iteration of the School Improvement Plan. All monitoring visits will be subject to a written report, that will be stored centrally, and used to support termly self-evaluation.

Rationale and purpose

- This statement was written and approved by the Governing Body at their meeting on 27.09.21. It will be reviewed annually, in line with the Department for Education guidance, and in line with the school's Behaviour Policy.
- This statement has been drawn up in accordance with the Education and Inspections Act, 2006, and DfE guidance Behaviour and Discipline in Schools, January 2016.
- The purpose of this statement is to provide guidance for the Head Teacher in drawing up the school's Behaviour Policy so that it reflects the shared aspirations and beliefs of Governors, staff and parents for the pupils in the school as well as taking full account of law and guidance on behaviour matters. It is intended to help all school staff to be aware of and understand the extent of their powers in respect of discipline and sanctions and how to use them. Staff should be confident that they have the governors' support when following this guidance.
- The school's Behaviour Policy is publicised to staff and families on the school website

Principles

1. The Governing Body of Mayflower Primary School has consistently high expectations of our pupil's behaviour without exception. We believe that excellent behaviour is imperative in order to ensure that all children's right to an outstanding education is respected. We believe all children should understand that it is the responsibility of staff, pupils and members of the school community to uphold and maintain our school values of peace, responsibility, respect, thoughtfulness, resilience, friendship, empathy, hope, determination, fairness, perseverance and love.
2. Every pupil understands and respects that they have the right to be heard, to learn and to be safe in body and mind, to be valued and respected, and learn free from the disruption of others.
3. Every pupil has the right to learn in a safe environment.
4. All pupils, staff and visitors are free from any form of discrimination.
5. Staff and volunteers set consistently high expectations of all pupils with no excuses.
6. School will work in partnership with children, parents and staff to uphold consistently high expectations of their behaviour and modelling at all times.
7. The school's Behaviour Policy and behaviour principles is available to and understood by all pupils, staff and parents.
8. The school's legal duties under the Equality Act (2010) in respect of safeguarding pupils with special educational needs and/or disabilities, and all vulnerable pupils, is set out in the Behaviour Policy and know to all staff.
9. Rewards, sanctions and reasonable force are used consistently by staff, in line with the behaviour policy.

10. The exclusions policy explains that exclusions will only be used as a last resort, and outlines the processes involved in permanent and fixed-term exclusions.

11. Pupils are helped to take responsibility for their actions.

12. Families are involved in behaviour incidents to foster good relationships between the school and pupils' home life.

The governing board also emphasises that violence or threatening behaviour will not be tolerated in any circumstances.

Our School Respect Code

This book belongs to:

If others choose not to follow our 'Respect Code'

This is what you should do:-

If someone is upsetting or hurting you, tell us straight away.

If you see someone being hurt tell us what you have seen.

Bullying is when someone 'hurts' you on purpose several times:

Several
Times
On Purpose.

You should always tell an adult if this happens to you.

We will always listen and do our best to help.

Dear children,

We think Mayflower is a good school. You can help us to make it even better!

We want everyone to have the right to come happily to school and to feel safe and secure, both in the classroom and in the playground. This can only be achieved through respect for, and by, all members of our school community

We want everyone to have the same opportunity to work hard, learn without interruptions and do their best.

This booklet will tell you how you can help.

Yours sincerely
The Staff

Remember - ALWAYS tell someone!

Consequences

If we do not follow our rules, the following will happen

- The first time – you will be given a warning
- The second time – you will be moved away from your friends for a time
- The third time – you will stay for 5 minutes after class with the teacher
- The fourth time – your teacher will telephone or talk to your parents
- Finally – you will see the headteacher

A letter will also be sent home inviting your parents to see the headteacher.

A really serious incident would go straight to the last step.

Respect for all by all

Mayflower Primary School

A parent's guide to our

School Respect Code

Dear Parents,

At Mayflower Primary School we believe that we should treat each other with respect and take care of one another. This 'Respect Code' helps us to do this.

Your children come to our school to learn and they have the right to learn in a safe, caring and stimulating environment.

They shouldn't have their school day interrupted or spoiled by other children's misbehaviour. Every child should feel safe and free from disruption to their learning.

Every child has a booklet called 'Our School Respect Code' which is about respect for each other.

Please look at it and discuss it with your child, then return it to school for you child to keep within their classroom. This booklet is for you to keep at home.

We hope that you will work with us to encourage 'Respect for All, by All' and positive attitudes throughout our school.

Yours sincerely
The Staff

Bullying

Although bullying is dealt with in our 'Respect Code', we feel it is important enough to warrant a separate section.

Bullying is defined as 'The wilful, conscious desire to hurt, threaten or frighten someone' –

Several Times
On Purpose.

Every reported incident is followed up and recorded. Please encourage your child to tell us if they experience or witness bullying.

No-one wants to believe their child is a bully, but if we have reason to think your child has been involved in persistent bullying we will ask you to come in and discuss the matter with us.

We hope you will support us and help to ensure your child doesn't suffer from either being bullied or bullying others.

CONSEQUENCES

If a child chooses not to follow the 'Respect Code', it is inevitable that consequences will follow. These will be:

<input type="checkbox"/>	Stage 1	Warning
<input type="checkbox"/>	Stage 2	Move away from group for a specific time
<input type="checkbox"/>	Stage 3:	Stay for 5 minutes after class with the teacher
<input type="checkbox"/>	Stage 4	Parents / Carers contacted (email, phonecall or verbally)
<input type="checkbox"/>	Stage 5	Child to see head – triggering a letter home inviting parents to meet with the head if things don't improve or they are concerned

If a child reaches the red spot (stage 3) this is recorded in the class behaviour log. Parents will be contacted if this happens too frequently within a half term.

At lunchtime, stage 3 will be the entry of the child's name in the lunchtime log and stage 5 may result in parents being asked to supervise the child at home during lunchtime.

Note: Each day starts afresh, names are not carried over. In extreme cases, when it is seen as necessary, stages 1 to 4 will be passed by and parents will be contacted immediately.

Ultimately, the school, in consultation with the Governors, may choose to exclude the child for a fixed period of time or permanently.

We believe that:

Every child has an equal right to receive the best education we can offer.

Every child should be able to learn without being distracted or hindered by others.
